Testimonials

"Tori at Pups Parlor is great! My dog has always been scared of the groomers, but he's always happy when he comes here. Haircut looks amazing, I can't recommend this place enough." — Joel VandeKieft, ProsInTown

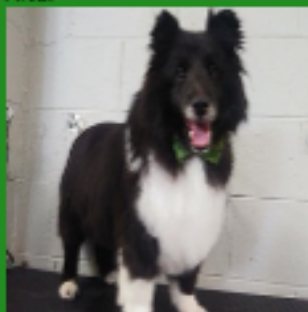

"Tori is wonderful! Tori groomed our dog when she worked for a previous place and when she opened her own business, of course we had to follow her! Not only does she do an amazing job, but she really respects whatever limits the dogs may have (fear of hair dryer, etc). Our dog came back so soft, clean, and her white was so bright!! Highly recommend!" — George M., Yelp

"My wife and I brought our Border Collie/Boxer mix in who HATES having his paws touched. He doesn't bite, but he really puts on a convincing show if you try. Tori tried to start working on his nails and, of course, he gave her the look and the growl. She stared him down and showed who was in charge, and he let her do her work. It was an amazing thing to see. I will be back many times, if I can get in with her busy schedule. Seems she is very popular and has a schedule that doesn't quit!" — Roger Z., Yelp

FAQ

Q: Do you offer do-it-yourself bathing?

A: I'm fortunate to have three bathing stations in my shop so I'm just now beginning to develop that service. By the time you read this I may have it in place or be on the cusp of having it ready.

Q: Do you have a waiting area?

A: Well yes, but I purposely don't keep a lot of seating in it. Most dogs get anxious if their human companions are nearby and they can't go to them. It's actually more calming for your pet if you are not nearby. Dogs are smart and intuitive, but their level of reasoning is that of about a two to three year-old child. They just don't understand why they can't come over to be with you.

Q: What is the scope of your services?

A: Besides cutting and grooming, I do bathing, nail and dewclaw clipping, gland expression and medicated fir treatment, toothbrushing. With bathing I use a proprietary, but all natural, mild and safe mixture to help them dry more effectively, so they don't just get dirty again outside.

About

Tori worked as an apprentice for over nine years before striking out to open Pups Parlor. A large number of clients followed her to her new location, and today she finds she has to book weeks ahead due to the demand. Recently she was devastated when she had to turn away some work due to her demand. But don't let that stop you from asking. She can usually find a slot somewhere.

If there is one thing people say most about Tori it is that she genuinely cares about her clients and their pets. Her ready smile and positive attitude is infectious, both to her two-legged and four-legged clients. Her focus is on her furry clients from the moment she meets them.

Some dogs do not like being examined or having toenails cut, and other procedures. They growl and threaten. Asked if she has ever been bitten Tori says luckily not. She is as gentle as a lamb with them, but if they challenge her, she seems to have a magical way to let them know this is happening, and they back down. Like a magician, no one knows how she does it.

Tori is quick to help owners develop the best habits in brushing and caring for their dogs' coats to keep them looking their best. She says it's a bit of a self-defense mechanism, making her job even easier (and less costly) when they come in to see her, but also helps proud moms and dads keep that groomed look going. If other people remark "what a beautiful dog," when a client is out and about, that's what brings a smile to Tori's face. But then, it doesn't take much to bring a smile to her face. That seems natural for her.
